

Mines of the County

The Leland mill is now running its full capacity on an excellent grade of ore, and is getting good results.

It is reported that the mines of Alger Brothers have been bonded to parties who will soon work them on an extensive scale.

Sinking is in progress in the De la Fontaine mine and good progress is being made. The new Western hoisting plant is working nicely and doing the work.

I. D. Hilty and Albert H. Smith are doing the assessment work on a mining claim owned by the latter named gentleman. The mining claim is situated about six miles south of Kingman, near Alpine spring.

Major W. A. Mensch sent out men and supplies last week to Stockton Hill for the purpose of starting work on the Infallible and Star Spangled Banner mining claims, recently acquired by W. S. Fletcher, of Pasadena.

Dr. H. H. Smith, of the Pacific Reduction company, operating the Great West mine, was in Kingman a few days ago on business pertaining to his company. The company is installing new machinery at the mill and expect to soon be in operation.

Oscar A. Ellis left for San Francisco a few days ago where he will receive the first payment on a group of claims he recently sold to the Seol Gold Mining company. The property is on the Arizona side of the Colorado river, a few miles below Eldorado Canyon.

Howard E. Throckmorton, a Denver mining man, made an examination of the J. F. T. and Alone mining claims, in the Stockton Hill country, this week and was very well pleased with them. There are two men at work on the mines and as soon as possible this force will be added to.

John Lynch, who has been at Choix, state of Sinaloa, Mexico, for a number of months past, arrived in Kingman a few days ago. Mr. Lynch has been with Henry S. MacKay, who has been operating a mining claim in Sinaloa. He will probably return to Los Angeles in a few days.

John Boyle, Jr., superintendent of the Premier Consolidated Gold Mines Company, who has been looking after the interests of his company in this county for several weeks past, has been looking over mines at Cerbat and Stockton Hill this week. He departed for his home in St. Louis this morning and will confer with his people regarding the working of the mines recently acquired in San Francisco mining district.

About fifty men are now employed in and around Stockton Hill. While many are at work finishing up the annual assessment work a large number are regularly employed in the mines of that section. It is the belief that within six months several hundred men will be employed in the mines of Stockton Hill alone. There are many of the properties of that camp that can be made to pay handsomely if properly handled.

The Yucca Cyanide Mining & Milling company is driving for the vein at the 480 level of the San Francisco mine and have just reached the casing of the ledge. As soon as the vein is broken into and drifts started work will be resumed in the shaft, which will be rushed to the 60 level as rapidly as possible. The mine in all the openings is looking splendidly and showing great bodies of a high grade of ore.

It is reported that Eli Hilty and Joe Anderson, who have been at work on their mines in San Francisco mining district—the Ben Harrison and Tom Reed—recently struck ore that runs nearly two thousand dollars to the ton in gold. The find was made on the Tom Reed and is a place remote from the old workings on the claim. The owners are highly pleased with their bonanza and are pushing work as fast as possible on its development. The mines are on the road between Gold Road and Snowball and in an accessible part of the district.

Best Liniment On Earth.

Henry D. Baldwin, Supt. City Water Works, Shullsburg, Wis., writes: "I have tried many kinds of liniment, but have never received much benefit until I used Ballard's Snow Liniment for rheumatism and pains. I think it the best liniment on earth." 25c, 50c and 18 at H. H. Watkins' drug store.

Judge Robert Scouler, general counsel for the Premier Consolidated Gold Mines company, of St. Louis, was in Kingman several days this week. He spent some days examining the mining claims recently purchased by his company in the San Francisco mining district, which is fast coming to the front as the leading gold fields of the southwest. The Premier company's mines are in the neighborhood of the famous Moss and Rattan mines, which have been large producers. One of the best known properties purchased by the company is the Gray Eagle and Mayflower, acquired from Grant Thompson, who some time ago made a shipment of ore to the sampling works of Kingman that yielded him over 908 per ton in gold. The vein is a large one and the values are high. The company has also purchased the Jumbo, Sulphurette and Gold Butte mining claims from Marion Derrick. These claims are to the northwest of the Moss mine and the Jumbo is supposed to be an extension of the rich old property. All these claims show big bodies of gold bearing ore. It is the intention of the company to push work on its newly acquired properties with great vigor, and it is hoped that they will meet with the same success in their development as have the owners of the Gold Road and Leland mines, which properties are close by, and which only a few years ago were mere prospects and which now bid fair to be immense producers of gold for years to come. This company also owns a number of other mining claims in the same district that show good gold values in the outcrop. All the properties are nearer the Colorado river than any of the mines now being worked in the district and are situated near the plain traveled wagon road. Millsites have been located on the river and arrangements made for the early erection of a milling plant. Work will be rushed on the properties and to put them in a producing shape within the year. The men connected with the company are among the leading citizens of St. Louis and are capable financially of putting these enterprises on a pay basis. Judge Scouler departed for St. Louis late last week and will return to the mine within a month.

We are reliably informed that the rich strike, referred to in these columns some weeks ago, upon a claim said to have been abandoned by the Gold Creek Mining company, is likely to prove a veritable bonanza, and that the statement of the find having been made on abandoned ground was erroneous. The fact is that the rich ore was discovered by men in the employ of the company while doing assessment work on the John McCollough mine in one of the deepest workings on the property. A sample of the ore at the breast of the tunnel 45 feet in, gave an average result of four ounces gold and 155 ounces silver. The streak is said to be of good width and gives promise of permanency. The company will continue work on the mine for some time and thoroughly exploit the new ore body.

Frank Russell, who has been with the Yucca Cyanide mining and milling company for six or seven months past, was in Kingman this week.
